IFS LOGISTICS E BRC STORAGE & DISTRIBUTION CERTIFICATION

Dear Sirs.

Greenyard always assumed a commitment to quality, having rooted in its culture the continuous improvement of its processes.

Following a process already started in the past when the company was certified by the ISO 9001 (Quality Management) and ISO 22000 (Food Safety) standards, Greenyard decided to evolve to more demanding standards, namely standards that were recognized by the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI). In this context it was decided to initiate the certification process by the standards IFS Logistics and BRC Storage & Distribution.

The adoption of these standards resulted in a natural evolution of implementing more demanding standards, that were applicable to the Greenyard Logistics Portugal area of activity and that were more directed to the requirements of the service provided. Additionally, these are standards with a high concern, not only in food safety, but also in food defense that we consider to be a very relevant issue.

We are proud to announce that at the beginning of 2017, Greenyard Logistics Portugal was certified by IFS Logistics, obtaining a Higher Level classification. More recently, in June, the BRC Storage & Distribution certification audit was carried out, having also obtained the maximum classification (AA).

These recent achievements reinforce our commitment to provide a service focused on excellence. Greenyard will remain committed to providing logistics and transportation services in a passionate, entrepreneurial way, presenting creative, robust and reliable solutions having always in mind that in partnership relations implies a high level of sharing. These are the Values that we stand for.
